TRIAL OF FT. WORTH RAPE CASE WILL BE HELD IN COURT HERE

W. R. RAY, CHARGED IN ATTACK ON 9-YEAR-OLD GIRL, GETS TRANSFER

William Ruthes Ray, confessed rapist of a nine-year-old girl in Fort Worth, will be tried in the Thirtieth judicial district court here.

The case was transferred here by Judge Willis McGreggor Wednesday afternoon on a change of venue following a telephone conversation with Judge A. P. Mays of the local court. The formal papers are expected to be entered Thursday or Friday.

Judge Mays and Charles T. Banister, county attorney, stated on Thursday morning that the case probably will be tried the first of the only term on court begins Monday, July 5. A special venire will be summoned.

Banister said Thursday that Al Clyde, district attorney of Tarrant county, would be here early next week for conferences relative to the trial here.

Attorneys for Ray, former air force cook, had asked for the change of venue.

The 33-year-old defendant is at Carswell Field. His expression did not change when the transfer of the case was announced, according to Ray's attorney, J. W. Smith, but his 27-year-old wife smiled.

Texas Democrats In Trading Mood; Ready To Bargain

By DAVE CHEAVINS

AUSTIN, Tex., May 26.—(AP)—Texas Democrats will go to the National convention at Philadelphia in a trading mood, according to leaders here, in a favorable position to drive a good bargain.

Both Gov. Beauford H. Jester and National committeeman-elect Wright Morrow are expected to believe that the not positive result of the Brownwood convention.

It was one of the stormiest in a long history of stormy convention.

Neither of the two minorities came out of it satisfied, but its leaders believe the new chance they now have to restore Texas' lost voice in National party affairs justified the hatched work.

The think that the National leadership has realized that it needs the electoral votes of Texas and the South to elect a president, and are now ready to grant concessions—perhaps even modify the civil rights program.

Jester said that the convention made it possible for the Texas delegation to say to the National leaders: We refused to join the Southern revolt, we are staying with the party and have only criticized the policies of the leadership, which is a Democratic privilege.

"I believe we will have a hopeful situation in Philadelphia to give a real voice to Texas influence and thought," Morrow said.

President Truman, as a person or a political personality, does not enter into it. It is a matter of the

Candidate March Attacks Jester Convention Rule

AUSTIN, May 27.—(AP)—Caso March of Waco, candidate for governor, said yesterday he will make a campaign issue of whether Gov. Beauford Jester and Dwight Morrow of Houston "can run."

Morrow is the newly-elected national Democratic committeeman for Texas.

Analyzing the results of the state Democratic convention at Brownwood as a victory for anti-Trust forces, March said this was evidence "Roosevelt haters, Texas Regulars and half-bred Republicans are running Texas."

"I'm going to take this Truman fight to the people of Texas. I'm going to make it one of the most fundamental issues of my campaign whether Beauford Jester and his proteges, Dwight Morrow—a well known Texas Regular—can run Texas," the Baylor University law professor declared.

"There can be no question now but that Mr. Jester and the Texas Regulars are sleeping in the same bed," March charged.

U.S. Again Protests Arab Seizure Of Yanks As U. N. Eyes Next Palestine Step

LAKE SUCCESS, May 27.—(AP)—The British said late today they had a new and important proposal to offer on Palestine. A British spokesman told reporters Sir Alexander Cadogan had a new instruction today afternoon. He described the instructions as important and said they contained a formal proposal.

It was not certain that the British proposal would be laid before the Security Council today.

INSIDE THE OLD CITY IN JERUSALEM, May 27.—(AP)—Arab Legion infantry captured and occupied this morning the great Hurva synagogue in Jerusalem's old city. Arab leaders said.

During the past few days, Arab forces have been driving the Hurva synagogue as the last stronghold of Jewish Hagana and Ir-gun Zvai Leumi soldiers in the old city.

By The Associated Press. The war in Palestine raged on today without a sign of any concerted plan for ending the mounting bloodshed and destruction.

Arab rejection of the United Nations cease fire plan aroused grave concern among its delegates. The critical question: What will the next step be?

Meanwhile the United States is making a second protest to the government of Lebanon over the seizure of 41 American citizens.

Woodbine Test Is To Be Drilled Near Ward Bridge

Oil activity in Navarre county will be given a boost this week-end when Coffield and Guthrie spud in their Woodbine test near Ward Bridge, Richard Creek, southwest of Corsicana, no later than Sunday night.

Humble Oil and Refining Company has a huge block in this section.

The Woodbine test is located 800 feet from Richard Creek and 400 feet north of the old Highway 31 slab at Ward Bridge crossing on the 1700-acre B. L. Davis Estate holdings. J. F. Taylor survey, Coffield and Guthrie moved in on Thursday for the test and the well will be spudded in not later than Friday.

Hopes Rise For End To Chrysler Strike In New Negotiations

DETROIT, May 27.—(AP)—Hopes for a quick settlement of the 16-day Chrysler strike rose today as the corporation and its auto workers resumed intensified wage talks after a night's rest.

Negotiations between Chrysler and the CIO United Auto Workers were recessed last night after nearly ten hours of bargaining. Both sides stepped down for official holidays.

Neither the company nor the union had any comment on the progress of yesterday's talks toward ending a walkout of 75,000 Chrysler workers which began May 12.

Optimism Seen. However, there was an air of optimism as representatives for both sides prepared to continue their work.

For the second time, the UAW reduced its wage increase demand from 30 to 17 cents yesterday. The company made no official indication that it had upped its previous six-cent hourly offer.

But looming in the background of the wage talks was the 11-cent adjustable increase agreement General Motors Corp. reached Tuesday with the Auto Workers Union.

Observers throughout the industry expected that settlement—which averted a threatened strike of 225,000 GM workers—would furnish a pattern for other contracts with the UAW.

Yesterday the Ford Motor Co. informed the union it would be willing to open wage talks June 14.

Some Industrial Companies' Stocks Reach Peak Since '46 On N. Y. Market

NEW YORK, May 27.—(AP)—Shares of industrial companies advanced to the highest level since August, 1946, in the stock market today.

A heavy rush of buying soon after the opening lifted prices a few cents to more than $1 a share. The market then went into a long, slow decline, closing with losses of fractions to a point or so. Nearly half a million shares changed hands in the first hour. Buying was based largely on optimistic interpretations of the General Motors wage settlement.

Long Closing Set. With the beginning of the summer Saturday holidays in observance of Memorial Day, most

Request For MacArthur To Return, Tell Far Eastern Views Voted By Committee

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—President Truman said today that he will be very happy to have Gen. Douglas MacArthur return home to tell Congress about the Far Eastern situation.

Mr. Truman made the statement at a news conference a few hours after the Senate Appropriations Committee had voted 17 to 2 to invite MacArthur home to appear before the committee.

The President said he has invited the general at least twice to return to Washington to receive a Congressional medal at the White House and to visit his people in the United States.

Once he said, was at the time MacArthur received the Japanese surrender at Tokyo. The other occasion was about a year later.

Each time, Mr. Truman said, the general thought the situation in Japan required his presence there. He said that the general is entirely up to the general whether to come back.

Chairman Bridges (R-NH) announced the committee's action at the end of a short closed-door session. The vote was 17 to 2.

MacArthur is supreme commander of Allied forces in the Far East with headquarters at Tokyo.

"Politics Not Involved." Bridges said Senators Saltonstall (R-Mass) and Reed (R-Kans) voted against requesting MacArthur's return, but they did not vote.

Senator Wherry (Neb.), acting Republican leader and a committee member, offered the motion to request MacArthur to return. Wherry said politics wasn't involved so far as he is concerned.

MacArthur has said he would accept the Republican nomination if it was offered him. Wherry's motion was seconded by Senators Ferguson (R-Mich) and Tydings (D-Md.).

Bridges told a news conference he will transmit the resolution to the Army Department.

Affect of "Instruction." Asked if the action has the effect of instructing MacArthur to return to this country, Bridges said that "every request made by the committee has been so honored."

Both Bridges and Wherry emphasized that they want the 67-year-old general to return at the earliest possible date to the honorarium in progress, will not be held up.

Bridges said that while he feels the Army will instruct MacArthur to return, there is the possibility that some "great emergency would arise" in the Far East, and "MacArthur would so state."

Later Wherry told reporters that MacArthur could return to the United States "within 48 hours," if other plans did not prevent. Votes Listed.

ANGRY CONGRESSMEN TO INVESTIGATE AIR "LIBEL" OF COUNTRY

BROADCASTS TELL WORLD SUCH THINGS AS "TEXAS WAS FOUNDED BY SIN"

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—President Truman said today he is having an investigation made of alleged "slandering" Voice of America broadcasts.

The President told a news conference he is having the broadcasts looked into to see just who was at fault.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—Angry congressmen ordered a double-barreled investigation today into Voice of America broadcasts they say have libeled and misrepresented the United States.

Senators Ferguson (R-Mich), the Republican top investigator, will head one by the senate.

Rep. Chenoweth (R-Colo.) will direct one for the house.

Indignation, anger and amazement were expressed in the congressional reaction to disclosure that the broadcasts have told the world such things as—"New England was founded by hypocrisy and Texas was founded by sin."

Vandenberg Acts. The importance attached to the matter was emphasized by the fact that Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), the senate's presiding officer and chairman of its foreign relations committee, announced plans for the senate investigation.

Sample broadcast excerpts: Nevada's two main cities compete with each other because "people get drunk in Las Vegas and divorced in Reno."

Sample reaction: From Senator Hatch (D-NM): "Trivial, nonsense and downright falsehoods."

From Senator Ferguson (R-Mich): A demand that congress rescind the $27,000,000 appropriation it voted for next year to finance the worldwide radio program intended to portray the Democratic way of life in this country.

From Senator Capehart (R-Ind): "I promise to introduce legislation for a top-to-bottom congressional inquiry into the state

U.S. Rejects Red Protests Shipping Hurt By Planes

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—The United States has flatly rejected Russian protests claiming American airplanes have interfered with Soviet shipping in the vicinity of Japan.

The state department said today the U. S. reply to various Soviet notes of protest was delivered to the Russians by the American embassy in Moscow Tuesday.

Over 50 cases. A statement released by the department said the Soviets had objected to more than 50 cases of alleged interference with their commercial shipping. The department said that neither the Russians nor in direct investigation by American authorities has there been evidence of such interference.

The American reply was not given out in text form but was summarized in the statement. It said that Gen. Douglas MacArthur as supreme allied commander in Japan uses air, army and naval forces "to prevent smuggling and illegal entry into Japan."

Low Flying "Necessary." "Low flying within the limits of safety in conducting this offshore patrol is absolutely necessary for reconnaissance purposes," the state department said in reporting on the note to Russia.

"These activities serve the interests of the Soviet government, as well as of other nations, concerned with the occupation and control of Japan," the department contended.

Unchanged Tariff Law Is Favored By Vandenberg

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) said today the reciprocal trade agreements act should be extended in virtually its present form.

Vandenberg, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, came out flatly against a provision for automatic extension of the act giving congress a veto over future tariff agreements.

As for the length of the extension, Vandenberg said that "if of great concern," although he prefers two or three years. The measure slammed through the house 234 to 149 by the Republican majority yesterday calls for a one-year extension. The present act is due to expire June 12.

Har's Flight Planned. President Truman and Secretary Marshall have urged a three-year extension without change in law. The house disregarded those pleas, the committee said, and is now providing that congress can veto a trade agreement if it wants to.

Vandenberg spoke out to reporters as Democratic Senators laid plans for a last ditch effort to carry out administration desires.

Application For Federal Aid On Hospital Is Made

The formal application for a grant of $400,000 from the federal government toward the construction of a new 100-bed hospital for Navarro county has been forwarded to the Texas department of health.

This announcement was made by L. L. Powell, county judge, who signed the application Wednesday in accordance with a recent resolution passed by the commissioners court authorizing Judge Powell to sign the papers.

The application was sent to Austin by H. H. Stroube, vice chairman of the county-wide Memorial Hospital advisory board, and chairman of the finance committee of the county organization. A brochure also is to be sent to Austin relative to the need.

Luncheon clubs and other organizations have endorsed such a hospital proposal.

A campaign is in progress for the raising of $300,000 by public subscription. It is likely that if this campaign is successful, the people of Navarro county will be asked to vote $500,000 bonds to provide a total of $1,200,000 for the construction and equipping of a modern hospital to replace the present facilities of the P. and S. Hospital, a county institution.

College and served in the U. S. air corps during World War II. He is now supervisor of air cadets for the state of California.

County Delegation Reported "Upset" By Treatment Of Tom Tyson In State Democrat Convention Chairman Race

Several members of the Navarro county Democratic delegation at the state convention at Brownwood were "upset" and "put out" with the treatment of Tom L. Tyson, local chairman delegation, according to Rex Patterson of Frost, county executive committee chairman.

Tyson got nothing—except in the neck," Patterson continued Wednesday afternoon as he recounted the convention that saw the local Democratic leader step down from the campaign as permanent chairman of the convention when pressure was said to have been brought against the Jester forces opposing the Corsicana attorney who introduced Jester two years ago when the gubernatorial campaign was opened.

Delegation Split.

Patterson said the local delegation was split and decided at first to go with Rogers (Woodville Rogers, pro-Truman leader).

Relative to the change in the vote of the delegation, Patterson said the change was made with the hope that it would help Tyson who had been promised he could name the District 8 delegates to the national convention in Philadelphia—Mrs. Burris Jackson, Hillsboro, and Joe Naughton of Waxahatchie—this promise was knocked out in committee, Patterson said, and others were named.

With reference to the 14 votes mentioned in newspaper stories that Tyson held in addition to the paign two years ago, was quoted as saying:

"Tom Tyson did it." Brown's statement was relative to the turning of the tide for control of the convention.

One member of the county contingent revealed that the change in the vote of Navarro county during the crucial test, the vote was 7-7 with Tyson breaking the tie to support the governor.

Conservatives told Navarro countians they would not "take Bob Calvert and Tom Tyson, too," both Liberals and prominent supporters of Roosevelt and Truman four years ago.

dozen C-47 transport planes to Cyprus to evacuate American citizens from the Middle East in case the need arises.

In Washington Press Officer Michael McDermott told reporters that American Minister Lowell Pinkerton at Beirut had been instructed to lodge a second protest on the Lebanese matter, but "I cannot go into details immediately since I do not know whether the protest has been delivered yet."

The instructions went out last night. McDermott said there would be more information when Pinkerton had talked to the Lebanese authorities.

Protests Made.

The first protest was made immediately after the Americans were removed from the Marine Camp when the ship stopped at Beirut on its way to Palestine.

The seized men are being held at Baalbek camp, 40 miles east of Beirut.

The Lebanese government has considered releasing them provided they will guarantee to return to their homeland and not join Jewish forces in Palestine. McDermott said Pinkerton had undertaken a poll of the 41 to determine how many want to come back to the United States but that no word has been received on the outcome.

U. N. Order Evaded.

The political committee of the Arab League in Amman informed the Security Council it would bargain over terms for ending the Palestine warfare. The committee gave the council 48 hours to submit the terms.

Efforts continued in London between American and British diplomats to work out a plan for ending the war in Palestine. Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told the House of Commons he was pursuing a policy to end hostilities, but declined to give out any details.

Bevin talked with U. S. Ambassador Lewis Douglas today directly after the British cabinet met. It was their fourth meeting in five days on the Palestine issue.

A foreign office spokesman said Britain regards the United Nations' order for a cease fire still open to Arab acceptance. One source said Bevin has asked for further U. N. consideration of Arab conditions for a truce before suspending certain treaty commitments with the Arab nations.

Battles Continue.

Inside Palestine the battle for the old walled city of Jerusalem and the highway leading west to Tel Aviv held major attention. Tel Aviv was subjected to a dive bombing attack last night.

Officers of the Trans-Jordan Legion practicing the attack in the old walled city of Jerusalem said Jewish fighters were still holding out last night in Hurva synagogue, but claimed surrender is imminent.

The Jews held only 20 square yards of rubble-strewn ground, Legion leaders said. Arab dynamite squads blasted buildings surrounding the synagogue while artillery units pumped shells into the house of worship, turned into a fortress. No Jerusalem Truce.

The Arab said a new request by the Jewish Agency for a truce to remove about 300 Jewish women and children from the old city was refused. Arab leaders said they would not commit their troops to evacuation while the Jews remained in force on Mount Zion.

An Arab Legion communiqué revised upward to 800 the number of Jews claimed killed in the battle at Latrun west of Jerusalem, and said the Jews suffered a "crushing defeat" in fighting that extended over Latrun, Beit Jiz and Khulda settlements.

A Hagannah unit struck at Beit Haroun, four miles northeast of Gaza in Arab territory, killed 30 Egyptians and seized or destroyed three heavy guns of the Egyptian artillery, the Israeli communiqué said. It added a great number of light arms were captured.

The communiqué said Jewish planes last night lashed at Arab positions in the Ramallah sector, northwest of Jerusalem, and at positions around the Holy City itself. Other planes attacked Arab concentrations and artillery emplacements near Kfar Biddu, along the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem road, from which shelling had been directed at a Jewish settlement, the communiqué said.

department's operation of the information program.

From the National Broadcasting Company, which handled the programs under contract with the department, the writer who turned out the scripts has been fired and the supervisor who reviewed them has been "relieved of his post."

Storm Still Rages

This, however, failed to dispel the storm.

It broke in the senate late yesterday when Capehart read excerpts from a series of programs broadcast late in 1947 and early this year to South and Central America. The Indiana senator said they purported to deal with life and history in the 48 states as seen through the eyes of two travelers.

One script of Utah referred to Brigham Young, the Mormon leader, as "carrying a bottle of whiskey in one pocket and a cud of chewing tobacco in the other."

But, said the script, Young "used neither."

Quoting further, Capehart read that Alabama's Birmingham was "constructed in a hurry and they have not had time to improve it."

The same broadcast called Alabama "the darkest" of all the states.

"In no other part of the United States have the colored people suffered and struggled as much as here."

Connally Charges "Traitors"

"This whole thing is saturated with malice," shouted Senator

Connally (D-Tex). "They are saboteurs. They are traitors to their country."

Senator H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said he had been in touch with the state department and was told a preliminary report would be submitted to the senate today.

It was Smith who led the winning battle earlier this year for full authorization of the Voice programs, previously carried out under wartime White House authority.

Smith said the department told him the series had been "farmed out" to NBC. The programs were neither written nor supervised by the department. But Smith added that this is "no justification" and the state department will have to shoulder the responsibility.

Not Responsible

NEW YORK, May 27 (AP)—Rene Borgia, discharged NBC script writer who prepared the controversial "Voice of America" scripts, declared today he was not responsible for them.

In a telephone interview, Borgia said "I was told to write them that way. I didn't even sign them because I didn't believe what was in them."

He identified Alberto Ganderio as the man who told him what to write and said Ganderio was head of the Spanish language section in NBC's shortwave department. Ganderio was relieved of his duties and then resigned, NBC said.

FIDELITY TO PRINCIPLE ALWAYS CALLS FOR COURAGE

Out of Ancient Bible Story Comes Lesson For Today—Daniel Was Ready to Test His Theories—Liquor Creates Perennial Problem—Each Age Must Face It

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS

From time immemorial the disposition of "homo sapiens" to seek solace and forgetfulness in liquor has been noted by every student of history. Drinking has always been a moral problem, for drunkenness has been damaging human life and influencing the destinies of civilization down across the centuries. In recent generations it has grown into a prodigious social problem. Precision machinery, mass production, high-speed automobiles, airplanes, buses, and trains have changed the whole picture. Whereas the drinker a hundred years ago—and through preceding ages—was often a nuisance, the drinker today is a potential menace. Anyone who has ever had his car jounced to the side of the road by an inebriated driver coming in the opposite direction knows all about the modern situation from experience.

The Sunday School lesson for this week is one of the familiar bits of the literature of religion. Daniel and his three companions are educated and special Hebrew youths, prisoners in personal attendance upon King Nebuchadnezzar. As part of the royal entourage, they were expected to look well and be happy to do that, and they were permitted to eat the dainties of the king's table and to drink of his wine. However, these young Hebrews were truly wise, and they knew the secret of the training table—simple food for physical fitness.

Putting it to the Test
They were not "grouches," and they won the good will of the chief of the eunuchs who tolerantly permitted his charges to make a ten-day experiment on simple food with no wine on the diet list. All they asked for their proposals was a fair trial. Sound moral principles are ever willing to submit to tests. Their advocates and special Hebrew youths, prisoners in personal attendance upon King Nebuchadnezzar. As part of the royal entourage, they were expected to look well and be happy to do that, and they were permitted to eat the dainties of the king's table and to drink of his wine. However, these young Hebrews were truly wise, and they knew the secret of the training table—simple food for physical fitness.

They were not "grouches," and they won the good will of the chief of the eunuchs who tolerantly permitted his charges to make a ten-day experiment on simple food with no wine on the diet list. All they asked for their proposals was a fair trial. Sound moral principles are ever willing to submit to tests. Their advocates and special Hebrew youths, prisoners in personal attendance upon King Nebuchadnezzar. As part of the royal entourage, they were expected to look well and be happy to do that, and they were permitted to eat the dainties of the king's table and to drink of his wine. However, these young Hebrews were truly wise, and they knew the secret of the training table—simple food for physical fitness.

As a child, Daniel had been brought to Babylon by the conquering king, along with the members of his family and thousands of other persons, all prisoners of war. They remind us of the vast multitude of displaced persons who in recent years have been wrenched from their ancestral moorings and made to settle in a strange land. This is always a trial of both patience and personal morals. It would have been easy for Daniel and his friends as they grew up to fall in with the moral laxity which prevailed in the pagan empire in which the Hebrews found themselves prisoners.

No Moth Balls for Virtue
But Daniel had not put his principles of conduct into moth balls when he moved from slow-going, old-fashioned Jerusalem to the gay city of Babylon. For Daniel was of the breed of man who is capable of his own soul, who is no mere chameleon taking on the color of his surroundings, but an independent, self-directing citizen. He dared to be himself, buttressed and sustained by moral principles which most of his contemporaries considered queer.

The end of the story is that the good-natured eunuch who had charge of the training of the young Hebrews and their friends finally gave in and allowed Daniel to try his queer program for ten days. To the eunuch it all failed to make sense. But he would give the youngsters a chance to make fools of themselves. The way to show them their mistake was to let them make it. In the end, Daniel and his buddies won. Even the eunuch had to confess that the simple diet and complete abstinence from wine had not hurt the queer Hebrew boys. And when they were brought to the king, his verdict was that they were in top condition physically, and that they knew more than all the wise men and enchanters in all his realm. Daniel advertised the success of his religious scruples in the highest society; and instead of being a killjoy he was a social success. Out of this story of the training table, the sumptuous palace of Babylon there emerge three principles which are universally applicable: It is best worth while to be one's self, regardless of current fashions. Abstemiousness is better for body and spirit than is indulgence. In life's testing times, the trained souls are found fit, and are called to places of power.

Kidnaping Charge Dismissed; Woman Is Given Release
The kidnaping complaint lodged against Mrs. Bernice Chapman of Little Rock, Ark., in connection with the alleged taking of an infant son out of the state was dismissed Wednesday afternoon by Judge W. H. Johnson, justice of the peace.

She was released from the Navarro county jail after the charge was dropped. Floyd Chapman, former husband of the woman, who signed the complaint, advised Chas. T. Banister, county attorney, and Judge Johnson that the two-year-old son, Floyd Stanley Chapman, was being returned and that he (Chapman) desired to dismiss the proceedings, according to a statement by Banister Thursday. His request was complied with, the officers related.

Mrs. Chapman was arrested in Dallas Tuesday and was returned to Corsicana by Deputy Sheriff Raymond Myrick.

A relative was said to have carried the child to Arkansas. Officers said that the woman and her former husband asserted that she did not know that the custody of the child had been awarded to the father in a divorce decree entered in the local district court several months ago. The father resides in the Richland community.

UNIFORM PRICING

Uniform or "multiple basing point" pricing systems are illegal under a decision of the Supreme Court. These are pricing systems under which goods are priced uniformly throughout the country, by agreement within industry, regardless of variations in transportation and other handling costs.

The ruling, made in a case against the Cement Institute and 74 cement companies, holds that such price control hampers competition, results in price discrimination, and is an unfair trade practice, under the law. It is expected to give the government a potent weapon against many industries whose products now are sold at standard delivered prices from Maine to California.

Although the commission now can enforce its order that the cement industry give up uniform pricing, no very immediate results in other lines of goods should be expected. The cement case has been in litigation for twelve years, three of which were required for the gathering of the data on which the government based its case.

The price of cement, or any other product which in time may be affected, will not necessarily decrease. As uniform pricing systems are broken up, prices should fall at points near the source of supply, rise at more distant points. The reform may seem good or bad depending on where one lives.

AFTER ATOMIC JOBS

The Atomic Energy Commission ought to be beyond the reach of politicians, but they are already striving for control. The Senate has a project to give the five commissioners a term of just one year. Then they will come up for reappointment next year, when some presume there will be a Republican President who will be expected to hand the jobs out to some of the boys.

The indignation which this proposal has aroused among scientists has caused its advocates to retreat a little. The suggestion is now made that a two-year term would be a satisfactory compromise.

Evidently the senators think of the Atomic Energy Commission as just another unit like the Federal Communications Commission, which is usually a piece of party spoils. President Truman, on the other hand, wants to stagger the appointments, giving one member a one-year term, another two years, and so on up to the present chairman, David E. Lillenthal, who he would like to reappoint for five years. That would give a future President control by 1951.

It is Lillenthal's place that the job-hunters are after. It will be interesting to see how strong they are.

A WOMAN MAKES TROUBLE

Beautiful Queen Nefertete charmed the Germans as much as she did the Egyptians over whom she ruled in the 14th century B. C. So when German archaeologists unearthed her statue in 1912, they smuggled it out of Egypt and took it to Berlin. When bombing threatened Nefertete's safety in World War II, she was moved to the small museum of Weisbaden, near the Rhine, in what is now the American zone. The Egyptians heard of her new home, and begged Uncle Sam to return her to her native Egypt, saying that archaeological treasures belonged to the country where they were found, and not the nation which dug them up. Our government has just

BOY TREASURES.

A little boy is one who brings into the home the strangest things.

Which to discover he has thrilled. But keep his mother's bloodstream chilled.

Not knowing anything of germs, he'll gather turtles, frogs and worms. And proudly bring them home to show.

As once did I so long ago. The mother of a little boy has terror blended with her joy. For in his pockets she may find beetles and bugs of every kind.

All little lads through boyhood's term love things that crawl and creep. And in their pockets cherish much that mothers cannot bear to keep.

refused this request, on the ground that we are not concerned with the acts of the German government before 1939. If the Egyptians want redress and Nefertete, they will have to apply to the German government when this is established.

As this has not yet been done and no one knows when it will be, Queen Nefertete will remain indefinitely far from her beloved Nile, on the banks of which she would have considered the bleak and barbarous Rhine.

BENDING GERMAN TWIGS

In Germany the divergent political groups which are competing for popular favor are seeking the attention even of children of ten years or younger. Just as did the Nazi party under Hitler, some of the presently recognized parties have youth groups in which they seek to enroll children before political ideas have begun to form in their minds, so that party indoctrination can be made a part of their education.

Occupation authorities keep an eye on these youth groups, mostly to watch for signs of nationalistic fervor which might mark a recurrence of Nazi ideology. It is recognized that political indoctrination at such an early age tends to produce an adult citizen who does not think for himself, but blindly follows the party loyalty which was drilled into him in childhood and youth. In this respect the new Germany, if these youth groups are successful in getting hold of a substantial proportion of the children, will be no different from the old.

FATHER OF GLACIER PARK

"A colonizer of empire" was the name given to the late Louis W. Hill, son of the "empire builder," James J. Hill, the president of the Great Northern Railroad, who built and developed this great road and thus made possible the growth of the Pacific Northwest. Louis Hill started railroading at the bottom, and worked up to the top, carrying on his father's work.

He will be longest remembered, however, for Glacier National Park. He built the first road there, decided on the Swiss chalet style of architecture which has done so much to make the park attractive, gave liberally to the park and persuaded others to do likewise. His influence was great also in having this made a national park in 1910.

Few achievements of any man have given so much pleasure to others, and will continue to do so throughout the years.

PERON MAY QUIT

Dictator Peron of Argentina says that he will not run again for the presidency. The Argentine Constitution provides a single term of six years, and forbids re-election, though the same president may come back after a six-year interim during which another man is president. With Peron's friends controlling the congress, an amendment might be passed in time to let him change his mind. He has four years more of his present term.

Dictators who give up power voluntarily are few. Non-Argentines will keep their fingers crossed for the next four years.

Nobody has yet quite solved the problem of bringing up parents.

Proposed 100-Bed Hospital Given Lions Approval

The Lions Club Tuesday unanimously endorsed plans for a new, modern 100-bed county hospital and agreed to offer its support in obtaining federal aid for the proposed project.

Speaking briefly at the lunch-conference at the Navarro Hotel, H. R. Stroube, chairman of the hospital advisory board's finance committee, reported that County Judge J. L. Powell and the commissioners court had made application for federal aid.

The plans call for a total expenditure of about $1,200,000 for the hospital, Stroube said, explaining that $300,000 would be raised locally by contributions and $500,000 through a bond issue. This would leave $400,000 for federal aid, he said.

A total of $175,000 already has been pledged and a full campaign for new funds is anticipated, he was announced.

Stroube explained that the size of the new hospital would be decided by a committee and would not be discussed at this time. However, he indicated that it would be erected on a large acreage spot.

Sharon Gooch, president-elect and now vice president of the club, presided in the absence of John McAdams, who is in Temple with other Lions attending the District 2-N convention.

L. V. Malora, in charge of the program, which consisted of the induction of two new members—Marvin Sanders and R. E. (Dick) Tolbert—and awards of 100 percent membership to 23 Lions.

U. S. Officially Says Red Peace Move Propaganda

By EDWARD F. ROMAR
WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—The United States pinned a belated but official "propaganda" label today on Soviet Russia's spring peace offensive.

Charles E. Bohlen, state department counselor and Secretary Marshall's principal adviser on dealings with Moscow, charged flatly that:

"The way in which Moscow published the Smith-Molotov exchange—and Premier Stalin's response to Henry A. Wallace's open letter—showed Russia's acting in the propaganda field and not in the realm of serious policy."

Bohlen furthermore predicted in a commencement address at the University of Arizona last night that Russia will resort again to the same tactics of "distortion" in an effort to confuse people of the United States and the Western democracies.

and State Chairman Bob Calvert. In discussing the question of delegates from this district to the national convention Navarro County favored Mrs. Burns C. Jackson of Midland and Joe A. Naughton of Waxahatchie. In the caucus of the 8th district according to Tyson there was no chance to elect both because the counties south demanded one place.

In a series of trades and compromises accompanied by some throat-cutting, Tyson said, the delegates from the counties south were chosen. Tyson then had an agreement with convention leaders that Mrs. Jackson and Mr. Naughton would be included on the list of delegates at large from Texas—an agreement which Bob Calvert and others fought valiantly and heroically to perform, but nevertheless was breached," Tyson said.

"Tiger"—A Cat Returns Home; Gone 10 Weeks

"Tiger" returned to her Mildred home at 1 p. m. today with only a set of blistered feet and a sad expression to explain her two and a half months absence.

The cat that came back is the property of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Melton Mildred.

Sh had lived an uneventful cat life for nine years in the Melton home, raising the usual number of cat families doing her part in a continuous, mice and rat eradication campaign, until one morning two and a half months ago she disappeared.

The mysterious disappearance occurred at the Girard warehouse in the Mildred community where "Tiger" arrived as a passenger in a automobile driven by Melton.

"I never saw a cat so glad to get home," Mrs. Melton said. "She greeted every member of the family jumped up on the beds, jumped in our laps, rubbed against us and we knew she was glad to be back at the old home place."

"Everybody in our community knew Tiger and where she has been the last ten weeks is a complete mystery," Mrs. Melton observed. "All her feet were covered with blisters indicating that she had traveled many miles to return to us."

Air Secretary Urges Planning For Protection

DALLAS, May 27.—(AP)—Secretary for Air W. Stuart Symington said last night that "planned air force can and will prevent any stunning defeat."

The top man of the air force is to visit Austin and San Antonio today and go to Longview tomorrow. He spoke at a meeting here.

Symington said the air force was working on a plan to enlist industry's equipment and skilled instructors in the reserve program.

He also announced the 455th bomb group at Hensley Field was being attached to the strategic air command for training purposes. It has been under the air defense command.

Symington said the 70-group force will not be an actuality before five years, pointing out that under the present plan only 1,500 planes will be delivered next year.

Symington revealed he had offered the post of assistant secretary of the air force to Robert J. Smith, of Dallas, brigadier general in the air force reserve and president of Pioneer Air Lines. "Unfortunately Bob had spent so much time in the war that he couldn't arrange his personal affairs," he said, "he could leave," Symington said.

Navy Recruiter Between Devil And Deep Blue Horse-Trough; No Beard Allowed So He Wants Old Uniform

Chief Tom Powers, navy recruiter in Corsicana, is no to speak, between the devil and the deep blue sea.

He wants a U. S. navy uniform, vintage of as far back as possible — preferably before 1900. It all came about like this. Powers, an Old Salt of the first water, from Bisbee, Ariz., is as clean shaven as the man in the razor blade advertisements.

Corsicana Centennial Commission's beard-conscious Vigilantes pointed a warning finger at his clean countenance. The alternative was a dip in the convention horse trough at the corner of Collin and Beaton here.

Up the chain of navy command went Powers. If there was no dunking, he would don the oldest navy uniform he could find, and do his recruiting in that garb for a few weeks. That was acceptable to the Vigilantes.

Evidently shore leave has left a lasting impression on Powers. He wants that uniform badly. Besides, the water in that horse trough isn't salty.

Guests at the session included Brown, Bobby Waddell, C. S. Roberts of Worthington, N. Y., W. E. Sawyer, new local manager of the Serra Roebuck store, W. E. Gately, a Sears executive, Tom Pascha, and Virgil Reece, who sported luxuriant beards as part of the observance of the Centennial.

Will Receive Degrees. Two Corsicana students are scheduled to receive degrees at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, June 7.

They are Barbara Elizabeth Byrd, 15A, majoring in general business, and Mack Verhyden, BS, majoring in mechanical engineering. A total of 503 will receive degrees at the twenty-second commencement exercises this year. Thirty-two will receive masters' degrees.

the celebration was going to cost money. Crown said, "We are going to celebrate 100 years of progress and we have to spend a little money to do it in the right way. I think your money will come back to you tenfold."

He asked that Corsicana's merchants go all out in entering floats in the parade which is scheduled to open the three-day celebration. "Let" show the world that Corsicana can put this thing over, and that Corsicana is a city with a future," the manager urged.

Brown gave several highlights of Corsicana's history, which he garnered while roaming through volumes in quest of ideas for the celebration's pageant.

H. R. Stroube appeared briefly before the Citizens, giving the details of the proposed 100-bed hospital which is proposed for the Corsicana area. He asked that the club endorse the hospital and write a letter urging the same to the proper authorities in an effort to help get federal aid. This the club did without a dissenting vote. M. H. Statham and W. B. Wad-del were in charge of the program for the day, and Tom Orr was named chairman of the program committee for the June 3 meeting, when club officers for the new year will be appointed and new members will be given their initiation.

Guests at the session included Brown, Bobby Waddell, C. S. Roberts of Worthington, N. Y., W. E. Sawyer, new local manager of the Serra Roebuck store, W. E. Gately, a Sears executive, Tom Pascha, and Virgil Reece, who sported luxuriant beards as part of the observance of the Centennial.

METHUSELAH of the pumas, this old cat has no gray whiskers.

Grandpa Puma Lives '9 Lives' At Once

AP Newsfeatures. AUCKLAND, New Zealand.—The granddaddy of all pumas in this city's zoo has reached the ripe old age of 17, and is still without a tell-tale gray hair about its muzzle. Statistically-minded naturalists say it is almost unheard of for a puma to live more than 10 years.

Zoo officials are confident that, after a check has been made with the London Zoological Society, Auckland's puma will win official recognition as the Methuselah of pumas.

The puma belongs to one of the largest of the cat family.

Unlike most of Auckland Zoo's other animals, the puma has never been named. It was born in Central America, and was reared at the San Diego, Calif., zoo before coming to Auckland in 1931 when only a few months old.

Zoo officials attributed the pu-ma's longevity to regular hours and regular meals. Its current diet is from 10 to 12 pounds of meat a day.

The puma, however, is not likely to have many more birthdays. A cub will be flown from San Diego shortly. After the cub has settled down in Auckland, says Zoo Curator E. R. Sawyer, the veteran puma will be "quietly disposed of."

It's Leap Year, Girls!

First girl in our town to "get her man" on Leap Year was the Cuppers' daughter, Jane, who wed Bill Webster's boy last Saturday.

When I asked Bill Jr. if it was true that Jane really did the proposing, Bill said: No, but she made it plain she'd make an ideal wife. Instead of looking for diversion or excitement every evening, she was content to chat beside the fire.

"I could plainly see," says Bill, "that we'd really have a happy home life—which is just exactly what I want from marriage."

I know it's usual for older folks to shake their heads over the younger generation. (It's gone on for hundreds of years, now.)

But from where I sit, young people of marrying age today are every bit as commendable as their elders were—in their temperance (a glass of beer for instance), tolerance, and common sense. So to Jane and Bill—the best of luck!

Suspicious About Superstitions Are Removed By De-Bunking In New Book

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Newsfeatures Writer.

"NEW YORK—Modern men may understand the atom and the fourth dimension, but he still refuses to walk under a ladder or let a black cat cross his path."

The most mature minds cling to childhood superstitions, sometimes in fun, often in earnest, says Claudia de Lys in her new book, "A Treasury of American Superstitions" (The Philosophical Library, N. Y., 35). Having devoted her entire life to the study of origins of superstitions beliefs throughout the world, Miss de Lys has assembled her findings in an impressive and entertaining volume which will hold many surprises for the best informed.

Did you know, for instance, that the girl who darkens her lashes with mascara is following an ancient superstition used by primitives to ward off the "Evil Eye"? Did you know that the wearing of earrings was started as an amulet, to bring good luck and ward off bad fortune? How often have you heard someone say "Keep your fingers crossed?" when awaiting the outcome of a business deal, a horse race, or an expected bonanza of good luck? This superstition, one of the most widespread in modern times dates back to the ancient belief that the sign of the cross brings good fortune says Miss de Lys.

Many superstitions surround the subject of romance and weddings, and the overwhelming preference for white as a bridal gown may be traced back to the old verse.

The custom of throwing rice at a wedding also has ancient origins, says the author. It is believed to be a survival of ancient religious rites of the Hindus and Chinese, who believed rice to be the symbol of fertility.

The word "honeymoon" originated with the ancient Teutons, among whom a newly married couple used to be given a kind of honey wine to drink for a period of one month or "moon" after marriage.

Fashion also is affected by folklore, says Miss de Lys, pointing out that the modern custom of wearing a triangular scarf over the head dates back to an ancient style based on the belief that the triangle was a mystic symbol, able to ward off evil spirits. The ancients believed the hair often harbored evil spirits—hence the phrase—"He gets in my hair." Thirteen has been considered an unlucky number ever since man learned to count, except among the Egyptians, who regarded it as lucky. The number has been called "the devil's dozen."

Different Problems, Conditions Are Presented In Farming Bottom Lands

Different problems and conditions are encountered in the extensive farming system of Fortson Brothers as compared with the average Navarro county farming operations.

Drainage instead of efforts to keep water from running off the land too quickly with its attendant erosion danger is one of the major Fortson problems.

The Fortson interests are operating about 8,100 acres of rich lands along Chambers creek and tributaries beginning west of Rice and extending with one break to below the Highway 75 crossing north of Corsicana.

Cotton planting is well in progress, particularly in the Levee District No. 11 area north of Corsicana, where share-croppers work most of the 3,000-acre block. Most of the 13-and-fourth operators on the H. L. Scales holdings west and southwest of Chambers creek between Rice and Emhouse and the original Fortson Ranch east and northeast of the creek, joining the Scales area at the stream, have already finished planting cotton.

Joe B. Fortson, Sr., estimates that about 80 percent of the tillable land on his holdings are devoted to cotton. About 70 percent of the 8,100 acres is cultivated, the remainder being timber and pasture lands.

Cotton planting is usually completed between May 1-15, but recent rains caused a delay.

Do Not Dry Quickly
The lowlands do not dry as quickly following rains since it does not have the quick run-off of up-lands nor the sub-soil drainage found in many instances. And it might be added, in August when the upland crops are burned and parched, those in the bottoms are generally still green, growing and producing.

Approximately 1,800 bales of cotton were produced last year. The producing of corn is extremely hazardous as well as row-stuff and grains since there is a huge crowd's root in that section, and these pests make serious inroads into any feed planted.

The lands of the Scales and Fortson Ranch are in Navarro County

Levee Improvement District No. 10—approximately 5,100 acres.

Hay Crop

Included on the Fortson Ranch is a 500-acre natural prairie or meadow from which much hay is baled annually. This meadow has never been plowed. Fortson Brothers leased the meadow for years before acquiring it.

The holdings in Levee District No. 11, north of Corsicana, is known as the J. W. Sanders farm, from whom a considerable acreage was acquired.

All farming operations are motorized—tractors are used exclusively. At one time several hundred mules were required. The heavy levee-protected farms require a tractor to about each 100 acres.

Huge sluice gates are provided through them after the flood waters in the drainage ditches to allow hill and other water to make their way into the creek run-way and outside the levee-protected area.

These gates open out from the levee district, and the waters flows through them after the flood waters inside the levee along the man-made channels reduce the pressure sufficiently to allow the gates to open.

New Channels
Several instances are shown where the new channels constructed years ago when the protecting levees were originally built have changed their courses from the new channels into the bar-ditches along the levees. New levees have been required when the streams cut away portions of the protecting embankments.

While levee districts as such are not primarily interested in terracing and other soil-saving and conservation methods, the owners of the lands in the lowlands are for the procedure. Properly controlled water in the uplands will prevent the floodwaters from getting so high, alleviate the bringing in of excessive silt in the floodways along the levees and streams, in addition to adding to the general prosperity of the agricultural holding of the area.

Levees Expensive
Levees need repairing and frequently raising—entailing a considerable expense. When the floodways have silted somewhat, the levees must be raised to care for the added danger.

Cracks in the embankments are also dangerous and may cause a break in the protecting wall, allowing floodwaters to inundate hundreds of thousands of acres of growing crops and in some instances matured cotton and other products.

Brush and trees growing in the floodways are periodically cut out in an effort to allow the waters to pass downstream as quickly as possible.

Hill water brought clay silt also are kept with the herds.

STATE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION FOLLOWS JESTER'S PROPOSALS

BROWNWOOD, Tex., May 26.—A tough-talking Texas Democrat has given President Truman's leadership the cold shoulder, but they refused to join the Southern anti-civil rights rebellion.

At the Philadelphia convention the Texas delegation will be free to decide on the spot whose nomination it favors. It will vote as a unit. The Texans followed an independent course mapped by their own leader, Benford H. Jester, in state convention yesterday. It calls for a fight against Truman's civil rights proposals and his nomination, but not for a bolt if he becomes the party nominee.

After a daylong struggle between pro-Truman and anti-Truman factions, the Texas convention took these significant steps:

1. Pledged itself a body, its delegates and 23 presidential electors to support all party nominees without any ifs.

2. Voted to send its delegation of 50 to the national convention instructed to fight the civil rights proposals, especially the FEPC.

3. Gave its delegation no instructions as to presidential and vice-presidential candidates. This left it free to fight Truman's nomination.

4. Instructed the delegates to battle for restoration of the two-thirds rule.

5. Elected Wright Morrow of Houston, unfriendly to Truman, as National Committeeman to replace Myron Blacklock of Marshall, who will retire because of illness.

6. In so doing, rejected Mayor Tom Miller of Austin for the post. He was backed by the Truman faction, general and the Travis county delegation in particular.

7. Elected Wright Morrow of Houston, unfriendly to Truman, as National Committeeman to replace Myron Blacklock of Marshall, who will retire because of illness.

fore the convention for a record vote. He said the convention leadership had promised a roll call on it.

Woodville Rogers of San Antonio, leader of the pro-Truman Democrats, said the convention was a partial victory for his side in that his major objective was to keep the Texas party from joining the Southern revolt.

Herman Jones of Austin, who nominated Miller, said Morrow had joined the Texas Regulars in the fight against re-nomination of President Roosevelt in 1944. He said Morrow had abandoned the Democratic party and sought its defeat and destruction.

County Judge A. L. Bevil of Kountze, nominating Morrow, called him a "patriotic, unselfish American and Texan." State Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton in seconding Morrow's nomination said he had been a loyal party member for 25 years.

Phillips said Miller and Jones had favored Henry Wallace for president in 1944, but that Morrow had supported Truman there.

Jones replied that Miller had supported Wallace when he was Democratic vice-president, but later had refused to introduce him when he spoke in Austin.

"I'm a Democrat born and bred and will be a Democrat as long as any man or woman in this country is a Democrat," Morrow said in accepting the post. He said he wanted to build the party "to the Democratic ideal—the rights of the states and individuals."

Fred Minor of Denton was named temporary chairman and Albert Sidney Johnson of Dallas permanent chairman of the convention without opposition. Mrs. H. E. Weiner of Seguin was re-named National committeewoman.

Man, Woman Get Jail Sentence In Delinquency Case

A young Corsicana woman and a 17-year old man were given one-year jail sentences and $500 fines after pleading guilty in county court Tuesday to charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

County Judge L. L. Powell assessed the maximum penalty provided by law in the case.

The accused were Louise Watson, 27, and Joe Copeland, who are in the county jail.

They were arrested by Deputy Constable Frank Chapman, Jr., upon information received from a trio of young girls, all of whom were charged this week with juvenile delinquency. County Attorney Charles Banister announced.

Charges were filed against the adult couple after one of the girls, only 12, tearfully related in defense of a delinquency charge how she and the other girls had been subjected to immoral indignities and advice.

The girl who set officers in motion after hearing before Judge A. P. Mays, was charged with associating with "vicious and immoral persons" and was released to her parents. The other two girls were in the county jail Wednesday, Banister said, pending a hearing on the delinquency charges.

Waitresses Hear Menu Discussion At School Today

Just in case a customer strolls into a Corsicana cafe and asks for the cards de jour any one of the waitresses attending a training course at the Navarro Hotel can hand him the menu and let it go at that.

Miss Jo Hardin, University of Texas extension service representative, instructor in the school, discussed "Menus" at the Thursday sessions of the school.

The waitresses learned, for instance, that a customer wants on complete he still just wants some stewed fruit in sirup, and if he asks for spumoni he wants Italian ice cream, of which there is very little here at the moment.

The school was in its penultimate day. Friday will be the last of the five-day course and certificates from the university will be awarded to the approximately 40 persons who have attended.

The school is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the State Restaurant Association of Texas.

School Children Given Data On Trip To Shrine

City school children Monday received take-home letters revealing the details of an excursion to the San Jacinto battleground and the battleship Texas, for which the American Legion is acting as sponsoring organization. The project will be county-wide.

The letters were distributed through the school PTA units, which endorsed the excursion as a project of high educational value. Contents of the letter follow in part:

"There is to be an excursion of extensive educational value to the children of our public schools. This excursion is to be made on the Burlington-Rock Island Railroad and sponsored by the American Legion. The objective of the trip is to afford our children the opportunity of seeing the San Jacinto battleground and the battleship Texas, which is anchored on the battleground. Sightseeing buses will meet the trains and transport the children to the battleground and also take them to see many interesting things in the city of Houston, including Rice Institute and the University of Houston.

Leave Here June 7.
The train will leave Corsicana at 6:30 a. m., Monday, June 7, and arrive in Houston at 10:30 a. m. The train will depart from Houston at 6:30 p. m. and arrive in Corsicana around 10:30 p. m. The round-trip fare will be $6.68 for adults and $4.25 for children with a possible reduction of these rates.

Parents from the various PTAs will chaperone the students. Children under 7 years of age must be accompanied by parents or guardian.

The parent was advised that each child would take his own lunch and that foods included should be selected with an eye to the fact that summer weather is here and that foods should not be perishable. There is a possibility that sandwiches and drinks will be sold on the train for the evening meal.

PTA Favors Trip.
The letter carried the endorsement for the excursion from both city and county PTA units. It asked for the names of adults and children who plan to take advantage of the trip, and for the names of parents who would serve as chaperones.

Parents who were unable to return the letter with the desired information by Tuesday, were requested to telephone at their earliest possible convenience Mrs. John C. Dempsey, Mrs. Scott Lowry, Mrs. E. M. Caskey, Mrs. E. B. Travis or Mrs. Clark Butler.

Suspected Case Of Smallpox Is Reported Here

She was a little grandmother and she knew that her grandchild was terribly sick.

Lying out where she does—near Rice—and being without a car, it was hard. But she got to the highway and she hailed a bus, the 3-year-old silent in her anxious arms.

The bus stopped.
But the bus had to go on.
And the little grandmother with the baby that was terribly sick stood and watched.

The baby had a rash—a heavy, angry-looking rash, and the bus driver couldn't take it on because of regulations.
You can't load smallpox onto a loaded bus.

The grandmother did the best that she could. She hitchhiked, thumbed a ride and got one.
Soon Corsicana health authorities were working on the case. A private physician diagnosed the case as the now rare disease—rare because of immunizations. Dr. Will Miller, acting director of the Corsicana-Navarro Health Unit said it looked bad.

The baby had a heavy fever—104. The outbreak was vicious. Some of the serum was extracted from the rash infections and sent to Austin for final analysis.
"It could be a severe case of chickenpox, but I doubt it," Dr. Miller said. "It certainly is a suspected case of smallpox."

Health authorities took the baby and the grandmother back to their home.
There they posted a quarantine.
